

ELECTIONS IN MANY PLACES ORDER OF DAY

Over Score Illinois Municipalities Had Polls Yesterday

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Voters in more than a score of Illinois municipalities named city officials yesterday in an election that drew legions of citizens to the polls and returned many incumbents to office.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly topped the list in Chicago, polling 7,150 votes over the 166,571 of his Republican opponent, Emil C. Wetten, and 87,726 of Newton Jenkins, independent.

Contests were non-partisan in many communities, but local issues were hotly contested.

Springfield voters returned Mayor John W. Kapp Jr., president of the Illinois Municipal League, to office, defeating State Representative William L. Lawler, Republican advocate of old age pensions, by approximately 3,000 votes.

Smashed Precedent

Mayor Leo W. Lelane (D) of Quincy smashed a 14-year-old precedent to win re-election over W. B. Smiley (R), former mayor. Unofficial returns gave Lelane a 395 majority and returned him to the mayoral chair not held successively by the same mayor or same party since 1921.

A majority of 388 votes re-elected Mayor C. Henry Bloom of Rockford, vice president of the Illinois Municipal League, who polled 9,664 ballots. Bloom ran as a Progressive. William G. Michaelsen, Independent, received 9,276; Joseph C. Liddell, Independent, 5,772; and Harold Benson, Workers, 247.

At least seven Progressive aldermen were elected to the Rockford city council, an increase of four.

Voliva Man Beaten

Zion citizens rejected the slate offered by Overseer Wilbur Glenn Voliva and gave management of this religious colony over to an anti-Voliva candidate, William N. Edwards, who polled 733 votes to the 546 of his opponent, John M. Bales. The defeat, said observers, would end the ironclad rule of the Overseer, who still maintains his position at the head of the Zion church.

A tenth mayoral term was accorded Edward N. Woodruff, 73, in Peoria by defeating the Democratic incumbent, Mayor Charles L. O'Brien. Woodruff won by 1,500, incomplete returns indicated.

Three former mayors were among five candidates defeated in Aurora when Mayor Conrad M. Baerseth was re-elected. Fourteen aldermen were elected on a non-partisan basis.

Mayor George Brechitz of Belleville seemed to have been defeated by George Remsnyder, who led by 200 ballots as all but seven precincts were tabulated.

Macomb Republican

All Macomb offices were retained by Republicans, except one aldermanic post. John R. Graves was named mayor with 2760 votes compared to 1718 for his Democratic opponent, F. M. Neylon. Graves' plurality was the greatest accorded a Republican mayoralty candidate in ten years.

Geneseo voters re-elected Mayor Louis Rohweder by perhaps the smallest majority in the state—62 votes. The victor's platform was based on control of the city's municipal light plant and the erection of a gas plant. On a local option ballot Geneseo went wet, 1,097 to 966.

In Carbondale township saloons won by 11 votes, 302 to 291. Learning of the returns, President H. W. Shyroek said he would go before the county board to ask revocation of a license issued to a tavern across the street from the Southern Illinois Teachers College.

Had No Opposition

Mayor Joe E. Anderson of Galesburg was elected to his third term, without opposition. A large complimentary vote was accorded him.

Thomas Butler, three times mayor of Alton, was defeated for re-election by Otto J. Hoffman. The latter had 6262 votes to 5,012 for Hoffman.

Freeport voters defeated a proposition to create a sanitary district embracing the city and adjacent territory. A proposal to permit professional boxing and wrestling matches within the city was approved.

Urbana city and township Republicans swept the field, electing 19 out of 20 officials. John Gray, retiring postmaster, was named mayor by a 600 vote margin over his Democratic rival, Perry Rhue. The lone successful Democrat was H. R. Parks, named to the council.

Commenting on his election Gray said two men held in jail for distributing anonymous handbills attacking his character would be prosecuted vigorously and that additional arrests were expected to day.

PERKINS BLAMED

Washington, Apr. 3.—(AP)—Criticism of Secretary Perkins on the ground that she was not enforcing the immigration laws was heard today by the house immigration committee.

The occasion was testimony on the Dies bill, which provides for exclusion or expulsion of all alien Fascists or Communists.

Saying he represented half a dozen organizations, including the Junior Order of American Mechanics of New York City, James H. Patton remarked: "I do not feel the department of Labor is doing its duty."

Chairman Dickstein (D, N. Y.) interrupted to say:

"I agree that some of these people are not desirable, but the law is wrong—not the Secretary of Labor. The law requires that these aliens must be convicted of two felonies to be deported and some of them are smart enough to commit only one felony and half a dozen misdemeanors so there is nothing that can be done about them."

"But the law isn't being administered right now," argued Rep. Dirksen, (D, Ill.)

FINGER PRINTS ARE IMPOUNDED

Unusual Procedure Taken in Lee Circuit Court by Alleged Slayer

An unusual procedure in a criminal case in the Lee county circuit court has been taken by Attorney Clyde Smith and Harold Nimz appointed by the court to represent Charles Skinner of Amboy, held in the county jail for the alleged murder of Miss Olive Derwent, high school student of that city on the night of January 30. The defense attorneys have filed a motion before Judge Albert H. Manus of Freeport in which they seek the impounding of all finger prints and impressions in the possession of Sheriff Ward T. Miller. The court granted the motion which was filed with Circuit Clerk E. S. Rosecrans.

In the motion, Skinner through his counsel, represented to the court that on January 30, 1935, the impression of certain finger prints were taken from the automobile in the possession of John Scott of Amboy for the purpose of identifying the finger prints of the defendant, Skinner. He further represents that the finger prints are those of some other person than himself and that the sheriff of Lee county retains the impressions and refuses to allow the defendant of his counsel to examine them.

No Prints Delivered.

Nye Committee's Program to Take Profit Out of War Made Public by Chairman; Confident It Will Pass

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—Chairman Nye (R-ND) of the senate munitions committee expressed confidence today that a drastic plan to take profits out of war which his committee made public last night would win congressional preference over any other plan.

The program would tax away all industrial profits over 3 per cent and cut personal incomes sharply. It would draft officers and directors of companies into military discipline. Remaining in their jobs, none of them would receive pay higher than a brigadier general. If they were "unwilling to cooperate," they could be sent to the trenches.

The committee said the plan would be introduced into the senate after April 8. The program, it said, "will do more than STRONGEST AIR FORCE IN WORLD WANTED FOR U. S.

Aviation Notables Will Discuss Proposed Laws Tomorrow

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—Declaring he wants the American air force to be the "strongest in the world," Chairman McSwain (D, S. C.) of the house military committee today called aviation notables to a hearing tomorrow on discussion of legislation touching the army air corps thus far submitted to the house.

Foremost among the measures was a bill by McSwain himself that would merge the air corps and the commerce department's bureau of air commerce into a new federal "Department of Air." It has provisions that would more than double the number of army planes authorized and about treble the authorized man power of the air corps.

Measure Wins Support
While the measure to set up a new government department under a cabinet officer to be known as Secretary of Air is not an administration measure, considerable support for it has been in evidence in some congressional quarters.

Some members of the military committee have not attempted, for instance, to conceal dissatisfaction with the manner in which the air corps has functioned. Several months ago the committee urged the removal of Major General Benjamin D. Foulois, air corps chief.

The bill would lift the authorized number of air corps officers from around 1,650 to 5,576 and the number of enlisted men from about 12,500 to 32,804. The number of airplanes would be boosted from approximately 2,000 to 4,834 "serviceable" ships.

Contemplates School

The measure contemplates setting up an aviation school corresponding to the military and naval academies, to train air corps officers. Likewise it would establish an extensive reserve system that would include all individuals engaged in operating or maintaining planes of commercial air services.

"The bill," McSwain said, "would promote aviation generally, both civil and military, by giving it its rightful place as the first line of defense, ready for instant action at all times."

"Just as we claim a navy second, to none, so by reason of our geographical situation we should have the strongest air force in the world."

Zilm Quits Post on Pardon Commission

Springfield, Ill., April 3.—(AP)—The resignation of Edward G. Zilm of Streator from the state parole and pardon boards was received today at Governor Horner's office, where it was said it probably would be accepted as of April 1.

In the absence of Governor Horner, who is ill in Chicago, there was no indication as to who would be appointed to take the place of Zilm. He is to be the new postmaster at Streator. The name of Edmond P. Conerton, former Democratic Representative from LaSalle, has been mentioned for the post.

Wm. Hawthorne, Ashton Attorney, Died There Suddenly Last Night

He had been in failing health for some time but his passing was not expected. Funeral services will be held at the home at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon and at the Farrelly undertakings rooms in Oregon at 2:30, with burial in Riverview cemetery at Oregon. Obituary will be published later.

Iowa Farmer Found Guilty of Uxoricide

Newton, Ia., April 3.—(AP)—Adolph Martens, Keosauqua, today stood convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of his wife, found guilty yesterday by a jury.

The state had not sought the death penalty for Martens, but described the killing as "cold blooded" and asked a first degree conviction. Martens pleaded self-defense, claiming a shot gun which his wife used as a threat accidentally exploded when he sought to take it from her. The shooting occurred last August.

At a previous trial Martens was acquitted of a charge of slaying his stepdaughter, whose death took place at the same time as that of her mother's.

Jury Exonerates Cook for Ex-Convict's End

Quincy, Ill.—Harry Wong, Chinese cook, was exonerated by a coroner's jury of the slaying of Roy Warner, 20-year-old paroled convict, who was said to have attacked Wong with a heavy stick in his room. The jury recommended that he be released.

SWISS PEOPLE ARE ANGERED BY KIDNAPING

Germany's Seizure of Newspaper Man Has Stirred Nation

Berne, Switzerland, April 3.—(AP)—Swiss officials declared today Hans Weserman, a German newspaperman, would be held here in jail until another German journalist, kidnapped from Switzerland, is returned from Germany.

Police said Weserman had confessed he kidnapped Bethold Jacob, who previously had been forced to flee from Germany because of anti-Nazi activities, and had turned him over to German secret police agents who rushed him past Swiss border guards while German frontier guards made no attempt to halt the kidnapped automobile.

Police today were conducting investigations in the principal Swiss cities in an effort to determine connections between German Nazi agents and any Swiss groups.

Little Switzerland was united almost to the last man in its determination to demand from Germany exemplary satisfaction for the kidnapping of Jacob.

Unanimous support for the government's protest to the Reich and its demand for Jacob's return was voiced in the press; similar expressions of approval were repeatedly uttered by citizens.

The incident, viewed as a violation of Switzerland's sovereignty, was regarded as having particularly grave implications.

Indignation was fanned to white heat by Berlin press advices indicating that the Reich will refuse to return Jacob and is in no hurry to settle the incident.

Only Eight Citizens Attend Town Meet

The annual meeting of the Dixon township officers was held yesterday afternoon at the city hall, there being eight citizens present. Frank C. Sproul was named and acted as moderator of the meeting. The report of Town Clerk Walter Fallstrom and reports of Supervisor David H. Spencer were read and approved.

The report of the town clerk for the meeting held March 26 at the annual audit session, named Mrs. George Fruin, Herbert W. Morris, Charles Eastman and Wylie George as assistants to Assessor George Fruin. Ray Carson was named the district commissioner of Dixon township.

In his report for the year just closed, Supervisor Spencer submitted the report of the township road and bridge fund showing a balance on hand of $3,092.37. The general township fund showed a balance of $3,052.90.

Many New Kinds of Trees Have Been Set Out in Lowell Park

Twenty-seven varieties of trees have been added to the Dixon park district pinetum in Lowell Park, and about 2,000 trees have been planted along the side of a road leading through the center of the pinetum, Harold Cook, landscaper, reported today.

Several unusual varieties are among the newly-planted species. They are Swiss pine, Corcoran fir, Fraser's fir, silver cedar, and three varieties of spruce, Dutch pine, Japanese ever, Douglas fir, hemlocks and ten different species of shrubs.

The park district is raising small trees in the pinery at Lowell park for transplanting in Dixon proper when they attain reasonable height. Mr. Cook, who has been connected with the planting at Lowell park, has been assigned director of the landscaping project on the Dixon high school grounds.

JURY FOR TRIAL OF "BOY WIZARD" SECURED TODAY

Former Head of Collapsed "Mokan" to Answer Charges

Chicago, April 3.—(AP)—A jury was completed today to try Frank P. Parrish, "Boy Wizard" of finance for mail fraud.

Federal prosecutors and defense attorneys then went about the selection of two alternates to hear the financial trial, expected to take five weeks.

Parrish, former head of the Missouri-Kansas Pipe Line Company, launched his concern in 1928, sold some $49,000 in stock to investors and saw the company crash early in 1932. A fugitive for a year, he surrendered in 1934 to face the government's criminal charges.

On trial with him are Ralph G. Crandall, Chicago attorney, Samuel J. Maddin, Kansas City gas man, and James M. McMannon of Chicago and Tulsa, Okla. All were directors of the ill-fated corporation, known in financial circles as "Mokan."

Attorney Dupuy Warlick of Kansas City, chief of defense counsel, sounded all juries on two points. They were:

"Have you any relatives in the Cities Service Company or the Standard Oil of New Jersey? Do you have any prejudice against advertising campaigns to promote the sale of stock?"

Stock of "Mokan" was sold in a national campaign in 1930. The other question was taken as referring to the promised defense—that Parrish's company was forced to the wall by rival concerns.

THRILL SLAYER UNDER KNIFE AT JOLIET PRISON

Joliet, Ill., April 3.—(AP)—One of the two "thrill" slayers of little Bobby Frank of Chicago—Nathan Leopold—may be back in the library of the state penitentiary in a short time, attending to his duties as a clerk after undergoing a major surgical operation.

Prison officials said today that reports from the prison hospital were that Leopold was recovering rapidly from the operation, performed several days ago for the removal of an abscess.

"He probably will be released from the hospital within a few days," Dr. Lonsius Brannon, prison physician said, dispelling reports that Leopold was "near death."

He added, however, that the patient would have to remain quiet for a couple of weeks because of "the seriousness of the operation."

With Richard Loeb the prisoner has spent a little more than a decade in prison under a ninety-year sentence imposed for the killing of the Franks boy.

Leopold has been spending his time working in the prison library, while Loeb has been conducting a correspondence school for other inmates of the state prison.

WHY WAR SCARES?

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—An assertion that a "Japanese war scare" was stirred up to help pass every naval appropriation before congress was made today by Chairman Nye before the senate munitions committee.

Nye made his statement after evidence had been introduced by the committee that W. S. Newell, president of Bath, Maine, Iron Works Corporation, had supplied newspapers with war news clippings.

"Just preceding each naval appropriation before congress," Nye declared, "we have had a Japanese scare."

"How many of these scares have been stirred up for personal interest of shipbuilders?" the North Dakotan shot at the stocky witness.

Before Newell could reply, Nye asked again:

"Is this the only effort you exerted to stir up a scare?"
"The only one I know of," Newell replied.

KILLERS HANDED TERM IN PRISON

Chicago Judge Reluctant to Substitute for the Death Chair

Chicago, April 3.—(AP)—James Senese, 20, and Elmer Krueger, 22, confessed killers of George Erickson, tavern owner, were sentenced to serve 55 years and 25 years respectively in the state penitentiary today by Chief Justice Denis E. Sullivan of the criminal court.

The youths appeared as witnesses for the state in the recent trial of the slain man's widow, Mrs. Anna Erickson, on a charge of having planned the murder. Mrs. Erickson was acquitted.

Judge Reluctant.
Judge Sullivan said only the recommendation of the state's attorney's office, which asked lighter sentences because of their testimony against Mrs. Erickson, saved them from the electric chair.

The state's attorney had asked sentences of 25 and 14 years for Senese and Krueger, respectively.

Judge Sullivan made it evident that he was reluctant to substitute prison for the electric chair.

"Both of these boys are guilty of murder under the most horrible circumstances," he said. "They took the life of a friendly man for money. However, I am forced to respect the state's representations."

Soft Ball League to Organize Thurs. Eve.

An organization meeting of teams which will compose the Rock River Valley softball league this season will be held at the court house Thursday evening at 7:30. Rock Falls, Sterling, Dixon, two teams from Freeport and Oregon have assured the league officials of their application for berths in the league. Three other cities are expected to be represented at the organization meeting as follows: Morrison, the Kable Brothers of Mt. Morris and the Midwest Canning Co. of Rochelle, which would be sufficient for an eight club league.

A representative from the office of President Phil Rosier of the National Soft Ball association of America headquarters in Chicago has visited the latter three cities this week and has invited representatives to attend the meeting in Dixon Thursday evening.

State Law Giving Preferences to National Banks in Closed State Banks Held Unconstitutional Today

Judges Harry Edwards, Frank T. Sheehan and Albert H. Manus, sitting en banc in the circuit court at Freeport this morning held the amendment to the negotiable instruments law of Illinois providing for certain preferences in closed banks to be unconstitutional and void for the reason that it does not apply to national banks. The assets of a national bank are distributed under the Federal laws and the decision in effect holds that the state of Illinois is powerless to pass any law which affects the distribution of the funds of a national bank.

The case arose by the receiver of a national bank filing a claim against a closed state bank, Robert L. Bracken of the firm of Dixon, Devine, Bracken and Dixon, representing the receiver of the state bank, raised the question and pointed out to the court that under the statute a receiver of a state bank would have to take money from the common creditors and pay it to the national bank while the national bank would not and could not under the federal law pay the same kind of a claim to a state bank, and that the apparent intention of the legislature was that the law apply to all banks, both state and national; that if it failed to apply to all banks, it was, therefore, void. The result would be that thousands of dollars would be taken from the common depositors of state banks for the purpose of paying preferences.

The decision will undoubtedly be appealed to the Supreme Court of Illinois.

Relief Rolls Decrease

Washington, April 3.—(AP)—A drop in the number of families on relief rolls from January to February was reported by the relief administration.

Charles Weber, Chicago Democrat, introduced a resolution asking congress to order the deportation of all aliens on relief, saying 270,000 are now being supported in Illinois. The resolution was sent to the executive committee.

HOUSE LEARNS OF JUNKET TO CAPITOL HILL

Adamowski Committee's Report Given; No Suggestion

Springfield, Ill., April 3.—(AP)—Without attempting to act on relief bills, the Illinois House today received in silence the information on Federal relief policies contained in the report of the Adamowski committee.

No recommendations for financing relief by increased taxes or another bond issue were made by the committee, headed by Majority Leader Benjamin Adamowski of Chicago, that made the "cherry blossom junket" to Washington last week to consult with the Federal Emergency Relief Commission.

Critics of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission, who demanded its reorganization before the recess two weeks ago, did not comment on the report.

Adjourned Over Night

As soon as it was received, the House adjourned over night without attempting to act on bills to raise $45,000,000 yearly by increasing the gasoline and sales taxes.

Rep. L. M. Green of Rockford, Republican member of the commission, in a supplemental statement said he did not agree with the findings of the Federal emergency relief administration.

The report was submitted by Chairman Adamowski, as more than a hundred representatives returned to the State House after the two-week vacation.

The committee members did not express any opinion as to what means should be used in raising the $3,000,000 monthly required for relief and as to whether the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission should be reorganized.

The report, in seven typewritten pages, told of a conference with Aubrey Williams, first assistant to Harry L. Hopkins, chief of the FERA.

Adamowski's committee reported that Williams said the FERA fixed $36,000,000 as the annual amount Illinois should raise for relief costs by three methods:

1. Illinois was grouped with the states which, on a basis of wealth and income, could raise $5 per capita toward relief or approximately $33,000,000.

2. A "model tax levy" on incomes, property and other types of taxes at ten per cent would approximate $35,000,000 in Illinois.

3. Two per cent of retail sales in the state during 1933 would approximate $34,500,000.

On the question of what would happen if the legislature would raise only $24,000,000 for relief, Williams was quoted as saying that if Illinois felt it could not raise the sum of $36,000,000 it was possible that the federal government, instead of increasing the allotment to Illinois, which it was claimed impossible because of the fact that other states would suffer in proportion, would reduce the amount of relief paid to each family, in order to effect the difference between $36,000,000, which has been fixed as Illinois' share, and whatever sum the legislature of Illinois might provide for relief purposes.

Other information received from Williams was that the FERA: Did not take into consideration the state constitution's restrictions against varied taxation.

Gave no consideration to the fact that Illinois pays a large amount of federal taxes.

Is satisfied with the present relief administration in Illinois and has found that increased costs and decreased cooperation and supervision result when townships or counties are given charge of relief work.

Myrtle Blackidge is Denied Another Trial
Springfield, Ill., April 3.—(AP)—Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackidge of Chicago was denied a rehearing to day by the Illinois supreme court, which stuck by its ruling that the former Collector of Internal revenue must go to jail for failure to pay damages in a suit for alienation of affections.
The denial of a rehearing ended Mrs. Blackidge's hope for a reversal by the supreme court.
The court also denied Attorney General Kerner's request for a hearing of a decision reversing and remanding the conviction of John Bain, former Chicago banker, and a group of associates for conspiracy to receive deposits while the bank was insolvent. The suit was directed at Bain, John H. Bain and Robert Bain.

DO YOU AGREE?

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

ARE you afraid to find a lie in what you think to be true, or a truth in what you think is a lie?

A battlefield strewn with the remnants of men, and of animals, and of machines designed to kill them, is also littered with the hopes, the estics, and the ideals of a world gone mad.

The world must be so remade that our high professions about God and the brotherhood of man will no longer be empty phrases, and it can be when science and sentiment join hands.

In life, however, unfair and hard it may be, produces bitterness and chronic complaint, then we have failed in the high art of living—have failed in a way that makes all other failures small.

Whatever our losses, if we have lost courage and a certain sweetness of spirit—if we have lost the power to accept ourselves when we cannot alter ourselves, then all other losses are trifling.

If fierce indignation is our first reaction to injustice and wrong, we have only to wait to see the flash of a torch designed to light a greater flame within us than anger.

Satire is too easy; and the weak point in it is that it deals with the weakness of an opponent, not with his strength. The joy of debate is in seeking for the hidden fallacy, not for the obvious one.

Failure falls to the lot of most men; but there is a subtle quality in failure, as there is in success. Better to fall in an attempt to climb Mont Blanc than in an attempt to mount a sand-hill.

"Oh, God," prayed Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, "keep me from gettin' sour." But there is another prayer sometimes just as necessary: "Oh, God, keep me from being too sweet."

Sooner or later we learn, if we are really wise, that the only safe way to hide our faults is to lose them.

"I have often seen a team cheered to victory," said a famous football coach; "but I have never seen a team jeered to victory."

Guest Night for Amoma Missionary

The Amoma Missionary Society of the Baptist church entertained the members of the Women's Missionary Society and the World Wide Guild at the home of Mrs. C. J. McLean, Tuesday evening, April 2nd. Very large groups from both of the visiting societies accepted the invitation of the Amomas, so there was a large audience to enjoy the most interesting program.

Readings were given by Mrs. Messer and Mrs. Helen Miller; vocal duets were sung by Mrs. Lee Read and Mrs. Kitty Ballou, and Miss Lucille Miller sang several numbers, all selections being highly enjoyed.

The guest speaker of the evening was Mrs. A. D. Schaffer who for a time was a Missionary in Peru, So. America. She gave an extremely interesting talk on her work in Peru, and had many articles of interest to exhibit to the group.

The hostesses served a very dainty and attractive luncheon at the close of the meeting. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. C. J. McLean, Mrs. S. P. Stackhouse, Mrs. Gordon Bennett Mrs. Virgil S. Carrier and Mrs. T. R. Mason.

Birthday Party; Margaret Orgiesen

Margaret Orgiesen of Nelson entertained very delightfully seven girl friends at a 6 o'clock birthday dinner at her home April 1.

The decorations were in pink and green streamers from the chandeliers and the center of the table where a beautifully decorated birthday cake with pink and green candles and roses graced the immediate center.

Favors and nutcrackers also carried out this color scheme.

A delicious chicken dinner was served by Mrs. Orgiesen and Mrs. E. D. Stitzel. Margaret was the recipient of some very pretty gifts.

The girls present were Barbara Campbell and Jane Toft of Dixon, and Gladys Lehman, Rose Bevilacqua, Rheta Babin, Dorothy Stitzel and Jessie Weaver.

Other guests present were Miss Kate Orgiesen of Dixon and Mrs. B. H. Veltz, Mrs. Louis Bevilacqua and Mrs. E. D. Stitzel.

Second Birthday For Carole Lee

Nine little baby friends of Carole Lee Slothover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Slothover were invited to her home yesterday afternoon with their mothers, to assist in celebrating Carole Lee's second birthday. It proved a happy occasion for the nine babies and ten adults present. Nice refreshments were served and Carole Lee received many pretty gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Landon and family of Lee Center were surprised Saturday evening when thirty friends and neighbors arrived at their home, bringing a lovely picnic supper with them. After the supper the evening was spent in playing cards, a very delightful time was spent by all. Each partying left a word of success to Mr. and Mrs. Landon who plans to move to Ashton to their new place of business. Mrs. Alice Beede Writes Interesting Letter Church Group

C. C. Hintz before the Second Quarterly Conference Group of the Methodist church, Monday evening, read the following very interesting letter written by Mrs. Alice Beede from South America to her friends here. Mrs. Beede is a member of this church group. Her letter follows:

Barquito-Chanaral, Chile, S. A. March 8th

Mr. C. C. Hintz, Dixon, Illinois

My dear Mr. Hintz:

Before I left the States you asked me if I would write a letter to Group Number 1 in the Methodist church, of which you are chairman and I am a member, and a glance at my calendar tells me that time is flying and before long I will be getting ready for my return trip. Mrs. Saunders and I are sailing on the Santa Lucia, May 4th, arriving in New York the 22nd of May. Mr. Saunders will follow us six weeks later.

I am sending "saludos" or greetings from the South Seas to all of my friends at home, and I shall be delighted later on to say "How do you do" in person.

We left New York last September and did not get a very good start. They discovered a fire in our ship, the Santa Barbara, placed there by Communists or Reds. It was built up of sticks and cotton and wooler to make it burn quickly, but it was discovered before it had made much headway. It was the week of the Morro Castle fire and we passed that blackened wreck off the coast near Atlantic City. We fully realized the horror of a fire at sea, but they doubled the watch on our ship all the way down and we had no further trouble.

You get all kinds of weather on a trip like this. It was very cold and rough for a few days out of New York. Then very hot, going through the Panama Canal, but the evening of the day we crossed the equator I got out my fur coat and it was very cold for the rest of the trip. We were in the Humboldt current which flows up from the ice of the South Pole, making it bitter cold while in that current at sea, but inland it can be—and is—extremely hot. I remember some years ago hearing the captain of an oil tanker which had just arrived here say that when they crossed the equator it was "snowing to beat the band."

The ships make two stops now that they did not make on my former trips—Buena Ventura in Colombia and at Guayaquil in Ecuador, both on broad rivers about thirty and thirty-five miles inland—and the ships have to go in and out with the tides.

They take on coffee and bananas—sometimes twenty-five thousand bunches, or "sticks" as they call them, in one load. Also other fruits and cocoa, and sometimes they have great difficulty in loading them on account of the torrential rains. The heavens seem to open and it pours! Sometimes they have to close the hatches, and if they are delayed too long they have to wait for the tide to go out the next day.

Guayaquil is directly on the equator and both places are unbearably hot, damp and sticky. Guayaquil has quite an imposing water front. Large white government buildings facing the water with statues placed among the trees and gorgeous flowers in the plaza. We took an automobile and drove around the city and out to their golf course over the worst road I ever traveled. Our car was like a bucking bronco and we could not stay in our seats. There were five of us in the car—but they returned us safely to our ship, and the charge was "seventy cents"! The inhabitants are very dark skinned and the native Ecuadorians are almost black.

Our next stop of importance was Callao which is the port for Lima, Peru. We motored all over the city and enjoyed seeing again the beautiful country club, the grand old cathedral, the plaza and the beautiful homes with their brilliant flower gardens. Lima is so very colorful and is a most interesting old city. It is called "the Ancient City of Kings" and was the home of the ancient Inca civilization. It was summer when we left the States and summer when we arrived here. Christmas is about the middle of summer and the Fourth of July is the middle of winter. Although here in Barquito it is never cold enough for frost. So our flowers never know when to stop blooming. The Saunders have a lawn and a beautiful flower garden, but they had to begin by making the soil, and the result has been wonderful. I never saw more perfect roses come out of a green house. The climate or something seems to be just right for them and for all other flowers also. Mrs. Saunders cut flowers at Christmas time to fill five large hampers, to send to friends in Potrerillas, but even that did not seem to diminish the supply very much. Whenever there is a funeral or a "fiesta" the people come trooping up the hill to ask for flowers and she is always most generous with them. I tell her that is why they bloom so profusely. The people are very polite when asking for flowers. One day a carabina (mounted police) came up and said "Will you do me the grand favor of giving alone, and over seven million dollars worth of the precious metal has been added to the annual exchange resources of Chile. The better world price of wool has also helped the sheep growers. But the two principal sources of income for Chile is copper and nitrate, and both are showing some improvement.

As I said before, the large Santa ships from New York do not stop in here until they return from Valparaiso, the end of the run, so our mail from the States is transferred to a coast boat in Antofagasta which brings it to us here. Yesterday the mail from the Santa Maria was transferred there to a coast boat, the Blobo, one of the largest and newest Chilean ships, but after leaving Antofagasta it caught on fire and was completely destroyed. The passengers were all saved but they lost all of their baggage. There were eight large sacks of mail for Patrerillas and Barquito, which was all destroyed, so we are mourning the loss of our letters from home this week, for letters are very precious to us in this far away country.

Again I am sending affectionate saludos to all of you and I hope you are taking good care of our dear Stansel family.

Sincerely, Alice E. Beede.

Shoes Add Polish to Costumes

THEY'RE REALLY CONSIDERED LAST WORD

You can't put your best foot forward unless it is properly shod, no matter how swank your frock or suit. The importance of smart shoes and the conspicuous part they play in costuming is vividly portrayed here. At left, navy blue kid oxfords perforated to reveal design underlaid with white kid is worn with a printed silk dress of dark blue offset with flower design in oyster white and grass green. Center, semi-tailored pumps of dark brown decorated with small metal and kid bow provides an interesting contrast for the beige and corn printed frock. At right, high throated rhinoceros oxfords are worn with a black and white check shepherd wool suit and velveteen jacket.

ship reaches us. Our meat comes from the Argentine and from the south of Chile, where it is beautifully green and fertile. But we have no cattle here, for there is no feed for them. So we use condensed milk and kilm—a powdered milk—we add water to it and it then costs us about 35 cents a quart.

As I said before, the large Santa ships from New York do not stop in here until they return from Valparaiso, the end of the run, so our mail from the States is transferred to a coast boat in Antofagasta which brings it to us here. and the DEAFENED SHALL HEAR

It is happily true that few people today need fear the consequences of hearing loss. SONOTONE's latest bone and air conduction instrument produced by Dr. Lieber, a noted scientist, has restored the happiness of hearing as many in Dixon, Sterling and Rock Falls will testify. There is only one thing that is truly conspicuous about hearing loss—that is the attempt to ignore it. SONOTONE is less conspicuous than glasses. You can hear equally well at 30 feet and 10 feet, and increased volume and clarity provides the nearest approach to natural hearing—free from distortion and extraneous noises.

RETIRING MARGINAL FARM LAND MAY SOLVE TWO PROBLEMS

The system whereby the American government paid its farmers to grow less food, in a time when many people were having a hard time finding enough to eat, is on the verge of being dismantled, according to recent advices from Washington.

In its place, it is said, may come a scheme whereby the necessary crop restriction will be attained through retirement of marginal land. And while any restrictive plan may look odd to people brought up in the belief that a granary can't be too full, it seems obvious that the new idea would be a good deal more logical than the old.

The Department of Agriculture hopes to kill two birds with one stone. It wants to check soil erosion as well as eliminate over-production. The retirement of marginal land offers itself as a program which can accomplish both ends.

Under present plans, approximately $1,000,000,000 of public works funds will be used to set up and finance the land retirement program.

Experts believe that millions of acres now being farmed should be withdrawn from production. In the first place, their cultivation makes them especially subject to erosion by wind and water. Deprived of its original cover, the topsoil is irretrievably dissipated; eventually, if present trends continue unchecked, the land will be permanently worthless.

In addition, this land contributes directly to farm surpluses. It may be a hard pill to swallow, but we must as well recognize the fact that the American farmer has been producing more than he can possibly sell at a profit—has been doing it ever since the World War.

Unless his lost markets can be restored he must cut down on his production if he is to be prosperous.

The present way of meeting that situation is admittedly unsatisfactory. There is something so incongruous about paying men to raise less wheat and cotton and hogs at a time when millions of people are suffering for want of food and clothing that we can hardly expect to make this scheme permanent.

The land retirement idea looks like the answer to both problems. It calls for national planning in its best sense—a far-reaching, carefully devised plan to use our agricultural resources for the best interests of all the people.

AS SENATOR BORAH SEES EUROPE

Senator William E. Borah of Idaho can usually be counted on to have sensible ideas on the subject of international relations; and his most recent comment on the current crisis in Europe will probably impress most most Americans as an intelligent summing-up of the situation.

Asked for his opinion on the outcome of European negotiations, Senator Borah said:

"Germany will do as she pleases and the allies will submit to it. The Versailles treaty will be scrapped and that will be a good thing."

That forecast sounds accurate. Germany obviously is doing as she pleases. Only a war will stop her, and the allies clearly do not care to pay that price. And so for the treaty—its defects are so apparent, by this time, that few Americans will quarrel with the senator's verdict on it.

LABOR CLEARS ECONOMIC SKY

Washington observers now believe that the threatened wave of strikes in major industries will not materialize this spring, after all.

A few weeks ago the outlook was dark. Leaders of organized labor were on the outs with the administration. Serious trouble threatened in soft coal, automobile, steel, rubber tire, and textile trades; and no one needs to meditate very long to realize what a succession of strikes in these basic industries would do to the recovery program.

Now, however, the sky is brighter. Concessions have been made by both sides. President Roosevelt's dream of an industry-labor truce seems closer to realization, with labor leaders mollified by assurance of administrative support for at least part of labor's legislative program.

It is to be hoped that this new optimism is justified. Widespread labor trouble is usually costly to everyone concerned. It would be especially costly just now.

It is the responsibility of labor, industry, and government to find a peaceful solution for current difficulties.

BACK TO THE MIDDLE AGES

An enterprising British real estate firm, marketing a new residential subdivision in Middlesex, has equipped its new estates with built-in dugouts, guaranteed gasproof and bombproof, and is making quite a point of the matter in its advertising.

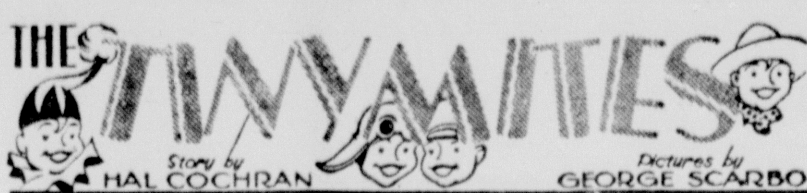

"Live here and be safe in time of war," is its sales slogan.

It would be hard to find a grimmer bit of testimony to the insecurity of life in the face of modern warfare. Centuries ago, people built their houses without windows so that each home could stand a siege.

Today we have advanced immeasurably from the disordered conditions which made such architecture necessary.

But if we have to equip our homes with bombproof dugouts, where is the gain? We have simply gone back to conditions of the middle ages.

Huey Long is just a farmer boy who does not understand what it is all about. He may get educated in Washington if he'll be willing to learn from those like LaFollette, Norris and Costigan.—Upton Sinclair.

(READ THE STORY THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The midgets soon were out of sight, and then Doty Tiny-mite said, "Well, now what are we to do, to have a bit more fun?" "Let's start off on another hike. I think that's just what I would like. We might explore the hills round here, before this day is done."

"The giant smiled and said, 'Well, miss, too bad you picked a spot like this. There's nothing interesting in the hills around my home.'"

"You'd see but little, I've no doubt, and all you'd do is get tired out. There are a lot of better places where you tots can roam."

I might find some way, if I tried, to get you Tiny-mites a ride. Then you could travel far, far off and see some brand-new sights."

"Just give me time to think a while." Then Scouty answered, with a smile, "Go right ahead and think, sir. We are patient Tiny-mites."

"But, first, I know of one nice thing that you can do. I saw a swamp that hung down from a real tall tree. I'd love to swing up high."

"I know what swinging's all about and feel sure that I won't fall out. Gee, Mister Giant, will you push me up toward the sky?"

"A real good plan," the giant said, "but I will push you all, instead. You see, the swing is mine, and consequently it's real wide."

"I'm sure 'twill hold you all, at once, so come on, if you like such stunts." "Hurray," cried Goldy, "here's where we enjoy a thrilling ride."

As soon as they all scrambled in, their friend suggested, with a grin, "Now hang on to each other, so nobody will fall out."

And then they heard him loudly cry, "Here goes! I'll push you way up high! I'll bet, in 'bout a minute, with excitement you will shout."

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sleek and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resist a substitute. 26c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

BALD EAGLE IS IN DANGER OF EXTERMINATION

National Bird Has Never Received Pro-

New York, N. Y.—Citing the strange circumstance that Uncle Sam has never extended legal protection to the emblem of his own national independence, and at the same time launching a campaign to secure such protection, the National Audubon Association in a statement just issued says, "It is a strange and unaccountable fact that federal protection has never been accorded the American or Bald Eagle which was adopted as our National Emblem by Act of the Continental Congress on June 20, 1782, and has been used throughout our history as our national seal, on coins, coats of arms, stamps and various emblems. If the question be raised, 'Why protect the Bald Eagle?' as well ask, 'Why protect our flag?' Both are symbolic of our sovereignty and our independence as a nation. 'Its increasing rarity and the likelihood of its complete extermination are also reasons for extending federal protection to this famous bird. In former times it was widely distributed as a nesting species, but has now become rare or is missing from a large part of its earlier range. With advancing civilization, suitable nesting sites have been destroyed and it has been driven from many of its feeding grounds by the constant presence of boats and people and by the pollution of water. So rare has it become that in only three or four states in the Union may it now be seen with any degree of frequency.'"

The statement continues: "The popular notion that the food habits of the Bald Eagle render it inimical to man's interests is abundantly refuted by the investigations of the United States Bureau of Biological Survey in its publication 'The North American Eagles and Their Economic Relations.' The Bureau's conclusions are summed up in the following statement: 'All things considered, the Bald Eagle is rather more beneficial than otherwise, as much of its food is of little or no direct economic value, while the good it does more than compensates for its obnoxious deeds.' Stories of its attacks on children are without foundation in fact. 'The increasing wanton destruction of our national bird is another reason which makes federal protection necessary if it is to be saved from ultimate extermination. Not only is the Bald Eagle killed today by those who consider it destructive to certain game birds and animals which they themselves wish to kill, but also by those who seek it as a trophy, impelled by that apparently ineradicable instinct to destroy any unusual or conspicuous bird that comes their way.'"

The statement concludes: "For sentimental or esthetic reasons alone, the American Eagle should be preserved for posterity. This magnificent bird not only seems a fitting symbol of valor and of power, and as such serves to represent the spirit of our national independence, but it also impresses one as the very embodiment of the primeval wilderness and is a source of enjoyment and inspiration to that ever-increasing number of persons who enjoy wildlife for its own sake. To all such, its extermination would represent an irreparable loss. It is with these thoughts in mind that the Audubon Association has recently launched a campaign to protect the Bald Eagle, and is backing House Bill No. HR 5271 to the support of which all patriotic citizens and those who appreciate wildlife should rally. Unless such action is speedily taken it may very soon come to pass that our children may never experience the thrill that comes from the sight of this great bird soaring majestically overhead or sitting motionless on some lofty tree by ocean inlet or wooded lake."

The Black Swan of AUSTRALIA

NOWHERE except in Australia can be found the strange black swan that has become the symbol of western Australia, where it has been found in greatest numbers. The nearest relative to this peculiar bird is the black-necked swan of South America. In the rest of the world, swans are all white.

The Swan river, most important stream of western Australia, is named for this bird, which was discovered by a Dutch navigator in 1697. In 1929, Australia commemorated the colonization of western Australia 100 years earlier with 1½ penny dull red stamp depicting the black swan, which is as representative of that continent as the kangaroo.

HOUSING ACT EXPLAINED TO LEE CITIZENS

Vigorous Program to be Carried Out Under Federal Law

A gathering of about one hundred citizens of Lee county assembled at the Nachusa Tavern last evening to attend the first meeting of a series planned for the introduction in Lee county of a vigorous Federal Housing Administration program. The purpose of the movement is to furnish employment as well as to improve home conditions, making possible such improvements under the Federal program, which has been adopted by more than 5,000 communities throughout the country.

Following a dinner, President George B. Shaw of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce called the meeting to order and presented Edward Valle, chairman of the county program, who has made a careful study of the movement and was the first to explain the proposed program for Lee county. He said:

"We know of no recovery measure sponsored by the government that is so impregnated with possibilities and promising results as the National Housing act, that was recently passed by the United States Congress.

Will Restore Values

"If not only provides for the rehabilitation, building and re-financing of homes by releasing frozen credits, but it will put back to work thousands of the unemployed who directly or indirectly are dependent upon the building industry for a livelihood.

"Through its insurance plan it will restore real estate values by preventing forced sales of distressed or mortgaged property at prices far below actual worth. If the act had nothing else to recommend it, this one feature alone would commend it to every thinking person who has the interest and welfare of his fellow men at heart. During the depression, thousands of homes have been taken from their occupants who were unable to refinance themselves when their mortgages came due. If we understand the housing act correctly, that condition will not occur again in this country. The National Housing Act, which is termed a national answer to a national need, should prevent its recurrence.

Not Political Measure

"It is not a political measure, but a sensible and far sighted solution of a national problem to which we all can subscribe. One of the objections offered against this housing plan is that it encourages people to get in debt. Granting that to be true, it is for a worthy object that will promote thrift through an orderly system of savings in the form of regular payments. Aside from the material benefits that may accrue, this 'Back to the Home' movement should be a factor in making better citizens.

"We hear a lot about Communism lately, and there are some who think that it is getting quite a hold in this country. We may reasonably assume that the American people are too well grounded in common sense for Communism to take root, and we know of no greater deterrent to spread of this insidious propaganda than the American home.

"The average American home owner is invariably a good citizen. He desires to possess in safety that which he has acquired. He supports our schools and churches. He provides for the education and comfort of his children. He is not content to be a subject of charity whether it be in the nature of a dole, relief or any other form of aid. All he asks is the right to work and provide the necessities of life for his family. That right should be accorded him, and it is our obligation as individuals in this community to cooperate with the government in its effort to provide him with that opportunity."

Director's Explanation

W. B. Carson of Chicago, associate director of the Federal Housing Administration was presented as the next speaker and he explained the various systems, termed the five titles as provided by the National act. In opening he commended the Dixon Chamber of Commerce for the splendid interest which has been shown in this community as indicated by the fine attendance. The building industry, he said, was the oldest industry in the United States and next to agriculture was the largest industry. The backbone of the construction industry, he added in financial, adding that the building industry and homes have suffered by mortgage loans during the past five years. The National Housing Act is not the government taking over business, but the government returning to business the interests to whom it belongs, and is the awakening of a serious menace of demoralization of homes, loss of happiness and comforts of home life. The act is a true recovery measure with no political strings attached.

The speaker presented the national condition by stating that there were five million homes short in the United States after a five year vacation, then explained the progress that has been made in many communities in this locality and closed by stating that Dixon and Lee county has been asked to carry this program to the home owners and farmers of this county.

To Organize Women

Mrs. Mary G. Chapman of Chicago, a sister of the famous war correspondent, Floyd Gibbons was presented and spoke briefly. Mrs. Chapman will organize the women's departments in both Dixon and throughout the county. R. J. Gardina of Oak Park, field representative, who will organize the movement in Lee county, also was introduced. Mayor George A. Campbell gave the assurance that during the remainder of his term in office, he and the members of the present city council would cooperate in every manner in support of the program.

Fred G. Dimick, who has been named general county chairman, then named his committees which are as follows:

The list of committees who will have charge of the organization of the program in Lee county and the campaign of construction, is as follows:

Executive committee: Edward Valle, Gilbert P. Finch, William H. Ware, George B. Shaw, John L. Davies, Fred G. Dimick, Dixon; and Stanwood Griffith, Ashton.

VOLIVA, LOSER IN POLL, SEES HELL FOR ZION

Finds New Reason Tuesday to Observe That the "World is Flat"

Zion, Ill., April 3 —(AP)—Opponents of Wilbur Glenn Voliva beat their victory drum today with the sceptre he wielded more than a quarter of a century while the General Overseer of the notorious colony found new reason to observe that the world is flat.

The city passed from Voliva's control yesterday with the election of People's Party candidates to seven of eight offices. Voliva's position as "Overseer" as he is respectfully called by the faithful, was not involved.

Contractor Victor

The victorious candidate was William M. Edwards, plastering contractor who helped remodel the White House in 1927. Edwards, a grandfather at 47 and for 32 years a Zion resident, will take office as Mayor on May 1.

Edwards carried into office with him four city commissioners, the police magistrate and the assistant township supervisor, by a plurality of more than 350.

Befitting the climax of a campaign which brought out charges and counter charges, whispering attacks, handbills, vitriolic speeches and even a $50,000 libel damage suit, the victors celebrated in noisy fashion.

Citizens Celebrate

As the final figure in the vote for mayor was posted showing Edwards had defeated John Nathan Bales, Voliva's man, by 1,759 to 1,407, several hundred persons scattered to their automobiles to blow horns, shout and form an impromptu parade.

To those who voted for others than his candidates, Voliva promised "hell will be their portion."

Boys shot a few firecrackers in front of the Zion home where Voliva resides, and some one started a small bonfire in the street. The fire grew to proportions that impeded traffic for a while. Some persons were seen chewing gum and smoking openly.

A follower of Voliva, unaware of the celebration, said of the election

"It's a shame. Everything was going along nicely and the city was being run honestly and cleanly. Well, they asked for it, and they will get a lot of hell with it."

Charge Rules Violation

Edwards and his followers contended otherwise. They asserted it was because Voliva pulled away from the strict rules set down by the city's founder that his following deserted him. They pointed to his free motion pictures in his "White Dove Theater" (which is really the school gymnasium) which they said started just before the campaign. The city ordinances prohibit movies if a charge is made.

It is generally known that tobacco and chewing gum can be purchased in Zion. Furthermore, there is a doctor of medicine in the city as well as two chiropractors. They do not advertise their practices, however. Dentists are not forbidden.

One of the things Voliva's followers were accused of saying about Edwards was that the People's candidate for mayor would appoint a health commissioner who would vaccinate the children. Zionites shuddered at the thought and Edwards stoutly denied the allegation.

WILD LIFE IS RESOURCE OF MOST VALUE

Pays Half a Billion Annually To The Country

A national resource, worth $500,000,000 a year, that has been "half wrecked by the careless handling of generations, a relic of more prosperous and prodigal days" is the theme of an article by J. N. Darling, Chief of the U. S. Biological Survey—more generally known, perhaps, as the "Ding" of many genial cartoons—in the March-April issue of Bird-Lore magazine, published today by the National Association of Audubon Societies.

"Think of it," Mr. Darling writes. "All of our birds, animals, and fishes! It is actually a resource of the very first magnitude—a renewable resource, also, which, unlike coal, oil, and gold, can replenish itself from year to year for centuries to come. We may think of it as a sort of annuity paying a half billion dollars into the pockets of Americans every year without default—to say nothing of the wealth of recreational and esthetic values. It seems to me that when the organization of our American civilization is complete we'll have need for other recreations than baseball—by proxy—and bridge, and for things more beautiful to look at than a collection of paintings turned out during the depression by unemployed artists on the rolls of FERA."

With agriculture, public health, education, good roads, forests, industry and manufacture having been established as indispensable furnishings in our "national household," Mr. Darling points out, there has been a lack of proper consideration of the American wildlife problem which has "all but been shoved into total obscurity by the pressure of our other interests."

It is estimated that the various states spend about $10,000,000 annually, which is supplemented by the Federal government to the extent of another few millions. Even in the face of these expenditures there has been an appreciable decline in our wildlife resources, for which Mr. Darling gives the following reason: "We have never had any coordinated plan of land-utilization that included the interests of our wildlife. Drainage engineers, reclamation experts, road-builders, oil-producers and consumers, lumbermen and everyone else have pursued their various objectives with little concern for other enterprises that might be helped or hindered, and with none at all for wildlife. We find, for example, one branch of the Government spending 122 millions mostly for the purpose of draining sloughs and marshes, while at the same time another—the Biological Survey—is given eight and one-half millions to restore water to exactly similar places for the benefit of waterfowl and other wildlife. . . . I do not mean that wildlife should have priority rights everywhere to the exclusion of every other enterprise. I do insist, however, that wildlife is properly entitled to its share of land and water and to have such areas set aside solely for its use and benefit."

Recommending the appointment of a "competent agency" to consult with, and assist State and Federal agencies to "represent the wild creatures" in any development that will disturb the natural environment, Mr. Darling concludes: "What is left of the public domain should be carefully scrutinized and suitable and generous tracts withdrawn and set aside as game and wildlife reservoirs. This need is so important that it deserves a major place in the national program."

The motor car is a good customer of everybody..

"I foresee the time when industry shall no longer denude the forests which require generations to mature, nor use up the mines which were ages in making, but shall draw its raw material largely from the annual produce of the fields. . . I am convinced that we shall be able to get out of yearly crops most of the basic materials which we now get from forest and mine."

Henry Ford

THE map above tells only part of the story—the little-known story of the inter-relation of the Ford V-8 car and the farm.

The figures in the map are based on what will be used this year if the Ford Motor Company reaches its intended production of 1,000,000 cars and trucks.

The rest of the story involves farm products which are not being produced in large enough quantities in this country to meet Ford demands—and so must come from abroad. It involves the long story of the processing given these raw materials by suppliers in all parts of the country before they reach Ford factories. And it involves continuous chemical experimentation, in the Ford Laboratory at Dearborn, on hundreds of farm products. There these materials are broken down, treated—new ones built and compared with the old.

This part of Ford research which has produced many innovations in the past, is an endless story, because each completed discovery suggests another. . . But Ford has already gone far enough to prove that Industry can be a good customer of the farmer and the motor car a good customer of everybody.

And that, Ford considers, is only a beginning.

WOOL goes into upholstery, floor-coverings, lubricants and anti-rust preparations.

LEATHER goes into upholstery—and in addition, glues are made from cow hide, and from cow's milk. . . Other parts of cattle, through other processes, yield stearic acid, greases, glycerine (for shock absorbers and body enamel) and soap chips (used in washing machined parts and bodies before painting).

HOGS furnish lard oil, oleic acid and brush bristles.

GOAT'S HAIR (Mohair) goes into upholstery.

BEESWAX goes into electrical imbedding compounds.

COTTON goes into tires, batting, cloth, battery box, timing gears, brake linings and, not least important, into Safety Glass. (Every Ford V-8 car built this year will have Safety Glass in every window, at no extra cost to the car buyer. . . Cotton, in the form of cellulose acetate, is the central part between the two sheets of glass that make up every finished sheet of Safety Glass.)

CORN yields butyl alcohol (for enamel finishes and other purposes) and starch (for stiffening cotton linings.)

LINSEED OIL is the basis for paint—is used in foundry cores—and is one of the ingredients of the beautiful, synthetic baked-enamel finish on a Ford V-8.

SUGAR CANE yields molasses for solvents, anti-freeze and shock absorber fluids.

CASTOR OIL goes into lacquers and artificial leather suitable for rumble seats, where real leather would be damaged by exposure to the weather.

TUNG OIL is part of the top material used in Ford cars and is also used in brake linings.

TURPENTINE is used in paints, adhesives and solvents.

SOY BEANS are used in making cores for metal castings in our foundry and are also an important part of the baked enamel finish of a Ford V-8 and of the plastic knobs and buttons in the car's interior.

LUMBER is used for packing purposes. It is not used for any structural part of the Ford car, which has a welded, all-steel body, reinforced with steel, for maximum safety.

KELLY CRUSHED OPPONENTS FOR CHICAGO OFFICE

Smashed All Records in Midwestern Metropolis Yesterday

Chicago, April 3.—(AP)—Edward J. Kelly, Democrat who once swung a pick-axe for the sanitary district, was elected mayor of Chicago in Tuesday's election by 798,150 votes, smashing all records for a mayoral candidate in this midwestern metropolis.

Carrying every one of the city's fifty wards, the brusque, jovial 58-year-old mayor dealt a crushing defeat to his opponents, Emil C. Wetten, Republican, and Newton Jenkins, Independent, with an avalanche of Democratic votes that totaled 75.84 percent of all the ballots cast.

So great was the mayor's victory that there was talk in some quarters that the national organization of his party may consider him as possible vice-presidential timber in 1936.

Last Republican Ousted.

Mayor Kelly's plurality over Wetten, his nearest opponent, was 631,579. His majority over both his opponents was 543,853. Wetten managed to garner 166,751 and Jenkins 87,726. Kelly's vote was just about what Democratic chieftains predicted it would be, and he carried with him into office the other Democratic candidates—City Clerk Peter J. Brady and Gustave A. Orand as City Treasurer. Brand ousted James A. Kearns, the last Republican holding a major office in Cook county.

Only once before was the vote received by Kelly ever topped in a large American city, and that was by Mayor LaGuardia of New York when he rolled up 868,522 of more than 2,000,000 votes. The total registration in Chicago was 1,503,303.

But despite their crushing defeat, Republican leaders were talking of party reorganization, professing themselves to be undismayed by the Democratic landslide. Several movements were reported under way. One was backed by Fred Lundin, veteran Republican leader, who proposed to enlist an army of anti-Democratic votes within the next 18 months.

FRANKLIN GROVE

By GRACE PEARL

Franklin Grove—Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pitzer have been entertaining their grandchildren, Miss Alberta, Edna, Junior and Raymond Benodit of Dixon, at their schools having the spring vacation.

In a communication from Harvey Snyder of DeKalb he informs us that he has been engaged as Superintendent of the Franklin Grove Assembly Grounds for the coming season and that he plans to open the swimming pool earlier this year, than he did last year, if the weather permits. Rev. Fred Knight was again selected to be general manager at the conference which was held in the fall. While the entire program has not been completed it is expected to have the Sunday programs as usual. Different organizations have already engaged the camp ground for camping purposes as they did last summer. We feel sure that the public generally will be glad to learn that Mr. Snyder is to be manager again this year. While here last summer he and his wife made many friends and all who used the pool or were camping on the grounds found them very accommodating.

Following is the votes cast Saturday at the school election for the Proposition, District No. 58, against 116, for 72, three defective ballots.

What is the man doing? The man is hammering on a chunk of nitramon, which is a new high explosive. Is the man trying to commit suicide? No, he is only demonstrating that nitramon is safe to handle because it cannot be detonated by anything less than a powerful dynamite cap.

Postal Telegraph Service

At a recent meeting of the directors of the Farmer's Telephone Company, held in their office at this place, a new venture, and a venture of convenience to many, was discussed and decided to begin operation.

An arrangement was made with the Postal Telegraph Company, whereby a person can send telegrams from the local telephone offices of the Farmers Co. in Lee county. This plan enables the sending of telegrams at any hour of the day or night. The message can be given the telephone operator, or the message can be written at the telephone office, and will then be forwarded to the nearest telegraph office, where it will be sent by telegraph to its destination. This plan will be of great help especially during the night, when the local telegraph office is closed. Telegrams may also be received and delivered in the same manner, through the local telephone exchange.

W. C. T. U. Notes

The W. C. T. U. will meet Friday April 5, at the home of Mrs. Henry Hicks. Roll call, Memory Gem. Program topic "Our Young People." Leader—Mrs. O. D. Buck. Beginning with April the hour of meeting will be changed to 2:30 o'clock for the summer months. It is hoped there may be a good attendance at this meeting. Roger Babson, world-famed economist, recently made this statement, "For every dollar of whiskey revenue received, we have lost $20 in the loss of legitimate trade and the cost of damage done to society." And immediately following this statement comes one from the American Business Men's Research Foundation, quoting the New York Sugar and Coffee Exchange, thus: "The consumption of coffee in the United States in 1934, the first full year of legal hard liquor drinking, showed a loss of 183,381 bags as compared with 1933 in dollars and cents, this drop in patronage of the coffee industry aggregates something over $20,000,000." History is repeating itself. Wherever liquor consumption extends there is always, legitimate business will find, old John Barley.

At the meeting of Circle No. 2 of the Methodist Aid Society it was decided to have a mothers and daughters banquet instead of the regular church supper. The banquet will be held Tuesday evening April 23rd. It has been several years since there has been a Mothers and Daughters banquet in this town. It is hoped that every mother will be present and it is also hoped that no daughter will have to stay home on account of not being invited. Every woman, mother, or otherwise is urged to secure a ticket and take a daughter.

The temperance play given by the young people of the Church of the Brethren entitled "What Shall I Profit?" is spoken of very highly each one rendering their parts perfectly. A very large crowd was present many being there from Dixon and Nachusa.

Obituary

Alexander Stewart Jacobs died March 28, 1935, at Waukegan, Ill., where he had made his home for some time.

He was the youngest son of Alexander and Louise (Newcomer) Jacobs, and was born April 3, 1873 at Franklin Grove. He is survived by two brothers, George of Fond du Lac, Wis., and Robert of Dixon.

His education was gained in the Franklin Grove school and early in life he engaged in the insurance business with the Queen Company. His ability won for him continued advancement until he held the position of State Agent for that company.

Seven years ago he suffered a stroke from which he only partially recovered.

He was married October 12, 1898 to Miss Janette Meyers, who died May 12, 1928, shortly after her husband was afflicted.

He was a 32nd degree Mason and was a member of other fraternal organizations. Funeral services were held in Chicago, conducted by the Masonic lodge, after which the remains were brought to this place on Saturday afternoon for burial. The service of the church was read at the graveside by Rev. L. E. Winter, pastor of the local Methodist church.

Mr. Jacobs was of a jovial disposition and won many friends, who regret his passing. He will be greatly missed at this place. His old home town, where on Memorial Day it was one of the real pleasures of the year for him to come here and greet his friends of former years.

Meeting in Dixon

The ministers and members of the Official Boards, are invited to a meeting to be held in the Dixon Methodist church Thursday evening, April 4th.

At 6 o'clock there will be music and a social time, and at 6:30 a dinner will be enjoyed. Following the dinner a program will be given.

Attorney Charles Louchs, President of the Rock River Lay Conference, will speak on "The Methodist Layman's Responsibility." Our District Superintendent, Dr. R. M. Pierce, will speak on "What It Means to be a Christian." Attorney Jacob Cantlin will speak on "What Methodist Laymen Stand For." The Methodist Preachers' quartet will sing. It is hoped that every member of the local Board of the church will find it possible to go. However, if you can not go, please find someone to go in your place.

To Be Improved

Surveying was completed last Thursday and work is to begin soon to dress the two blocks of street north from the main railway crossing to the Lincoln Highway. The surveying was done by C. K. Willett engineer from Dixon, and his assistant. The street will be prepared for a black top asphalt finish which, when completed, will be an excellent improvement, one which has been needed for some time.

A Centennial Souvenir

Miss Adella Helmershausen is preparing a book commemorating for the Centennial year of Franklin Grove. It would be impossible to tell all the interesting features it will contain, but it will be something that all of the older residents and those who lived here at any time in the past, will enjoy and wish to keep. Miss Helmershausen uses all of her many noteworthy attributes to good purposes, in trying to boost the old home town, which she loves so dearly.

A Fire Scare

Saturday morning the sounding of the fire siren brought everybody out inquiring where the fire was. A large corn crib at the Will Crawford farm south of town was on fire, and had it not been for the prompt response of neighbors and a large crowd of men from the village, no doubt the high wind would have carried the flames to the house and surrounding buildings. Charles Kelley took his fire chemicals out which did much in putting the fire under control. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford have high praise for the local telephone operator for her efforts in getting help to the fire and sounding the siren. It surely does pay to have a telephone.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

CHURCH of the BRETHREN

Over thirty members of the Bible Class of the Brethren church gathered at the home of their pastor and wife, Rev. and Mrs. William E. Thompson last night in their regular monthly class meeting. Every one was on the sunny side of life, with good cheer, kind words, and plenty of smiles to pass around which soon created an atmosphere that made every one feel welcome and at home. It had been planned that this meeting was to be a booster for the revival meeting which is to begin next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, and the Scripture which was read by Mrs. Minnie Bowers, president of the class presented thoughts of evangelism and the prayers offered and the talks that were made, and the songs that were sung continued in the same line of thought. Talks of interest were made by Roy Plowman, Edward Myers, D. B. Martin and Mrs. Heckman. The program was arranged by W. W. Lehman and he presented some helpful ideas concerning the revival meeting.

Perhaps the most outstanding feature of the evening was when handkerchiefs began to shower upon Mrs. Thompson and she was reminded that the class had gathered at her home on her birthday and the shower of handkerchiefs was being given as a friendly token of their appreciation of the service she is so cheerfully giving in many lines of church work.

Mrs. Alice Plowman and Mrs. Edith McWethy had charge of the refreshments and served cake and ice cream.

The fine spirit which prevailed over the evening's program made the time pass quickly and at a late hour the good byes were said, after thanking Rev. and Mrs. Thompson for the good time in their home, and with merry hearts and a keener desire to serve in a better way the cause they represent in the Christian endeavor, they returned to their homes.

How do You CHOOSE?

EVERY time you make a purchase you make a choice. Buying a certain product may be so much a matter of habit that you don't realize you are choosing. But the fact remains that in accepting ONE brand of goods you are always rejecting others; and the satisfaction you get from what you buy depends on the knowledge of quality and value that guides your selection.

How do you know which bed-sheets, or which roofing material, or which radio will give you service you require? You can't personally test everything you buy and compare it with all the other products in its class. But there IS a way to find out which brand fits your needs.

The people who are most successful in their buying—who achieve the highest percentage of satisfaction from the things they own and use — are those who consistently read the advertising columns, and buy consistently advertised goods.

Choosing isn't just "guessing" when you follow the guidance of the advertisements.

You can depend on advertised goods. It pays to read the advertisements.

LIVES OF TRAFFIC LAW VIOLATORS MORE DIFFICULT

Larger Cities Joining the States in Reducing Big Auto Death Rate

Chicago, April 3—(AP)—Life for the traffic law violator is growing more difficult each day.

American municipal authorities, like the legislatures of some states are "bearing down" on violators of the "rules of the road" in an attempt to reduce the mounting death rate from auto mishaps.

The penalties range all the way from fines, imprisonment, visits to the morgue, forced attendance at traffic schools, to janitor work and street sweeping jobs.

St. Louis is among the cities that have tried the "visit to the morgue" idea in lieu of fines to curb traffic violations but the morgue officials protested that the institution was being used as a "club to collect fines" and the practice has fallen into disuse. Chicago is still using the plan, with judges occasionally suspending or reducing fines in lieu of the morgue trips.

The morgue also is used for an object lesson in Los Angeles.

Justice of the Peace William R. Bell of Seattle, however, is opposed to use of the morgue as a cure for traffic violations.

"That," he says, "does not seem to me the right way to attack the problem. Rather let us have vigorous enforcement of existing laws."

'Go to School' Idea
Many city officials have taken the position that the way to stop traffic violators is to educate them. In Wichita offenders either pay a fine or are "sentenced" to traffic school which meets two nights weekly under the tutelage of a traffic officer of the police department. Offender must pass a suitable test before they are "graduated."

St. Louis and Cleveland are among the cities that have also adopted the "go to school" idea. In Cleveland, Judge Lewis Brucker of the Municipal Court suspends fine on condition the violators attend school, and the roll is called to make sure all the "pupils" are present.

If the traffic violators in Phoenix or Globe, Ariz., don't "lay their fine money on the line" they have to work out their sentences by acting as janitors or sweeping the streets.

It's costly to park illegally in Philadelphia. A police car will tow your machine to a certain garage. To get it back one must pay the garage $1 for storage and the police department $5 for towing.

DAILY HEALTH

THE DIAPHRAGM.

Thanks to the immense public interest in the case of a little girl with an "upside-down" stomach, the diaphragm has come into a good deal of prominence. This structure in the human body, though of vital importance, has been grossly neglected. Probably the neglect is due to the fact that the diaphragm so seldom "gets out of order."

The diaphragm is subject principally to two types of abnormalities and diseases. The first of these is hernia or "rupture." This may be of a congenital type, that is, present at the time of birth, or it may be traumatic—the result of injury. The diaphragm is really a very interesting structure and has a curious history. The diaphragm is not to be found in all animals. In fact, the diaphragm is considered one of the most pronounced structural characteristics of mammals, mammals being that class of animals which breast nurse their young.

The diaphragm, composed of muscle fibers which meet in the center to form a tendon, is dome-shaped.

Its functions are numerous. Perhaps the simplest way to describe the work of the diaphragm is to say it serves to massage the organs of the chest and the abdomen by subjecting them to variations in pressure.

When the diaphragm contracts, it becomes flattened and in consequence pressure is increased in the abdomen and decreased in the chest. When the diaphragm is relaxed, the pressure becomes decreased in the abdomen and increased in the chest. By this continuous repeated movement up and down the diaphragm helps in the circulation of the blood, in respiration, and in the work of the gastro-intestinal tract.

Incidentally, it is for these reasons that in physical exercise so much emphasis is placed upon "diaphragmatic breathing."

Snader, Reis, and Schumm. New school records were established in 1934 by McMillon, L. Miller, Snader and Thompson. The team received a jolt several days ago when Snader was injured by an automobile as he was leaving the high school grounds, sustaining severe arm lacerations. He is expected to be in the line-up for the inter-scholastic meets however. His specialty is the relay race. McMillon, high hurdler, set a record at 183 seconds last year and continues to be the outstanding performer in this position this year. Miller has been limbering up with the shot in the few practices held outside to date. He threw the weight 41 feet 5½ inches last year. Despite their impressive records, these veterans will find themselves out of jobs if any of the eighty candidates out for track prove more capable.

The 1935 schedule is as follows: April 17, 1819—Inter-Class meet. April 25—Rock Falls, here. April 30—Mendota, here. May 2—Princeton, there. May 4—Gateway Classic, Clinton, Iowa.

May 7—Sterling Township, here. May 11—Freeport Sectional, Freeport, Mo.

May 17—Illinois Championships, Champaign.

May 25—N. C. I. at Mendota.

Back to Films for Raquel

Almost a year of married life has proved a little too long away from the films for Raquel Torres, enchanting Mexican actress, shown above. So her husband, Stephen Ames, who had been divorced from Adrienne Ames, went back to Hollywood with her, and you'll see her soon in a new picture. Ames will stay close to her in Hollywood this time, a lesson he learned from his former marriage, when he was in New York and Adrienne in Hollywood.

She's Too Shy to Sue Sally Rand

Oh, why is the lady hiding behind the bubble? Sh-h-h, don't alarm her; she's shy. Oh, terribly, painfully shy is Rosita Royce, who timidly says she's the only bubble dancer who wears no costume at all, but that she'd never, never think of suing Sally Rand, even if Rosita did copyright the idea last year. A Sunday school girl from Kansas City, she shyly says she thought of the balloon dance when she was only 16—but has been too shy to come right out and say so until now.

The DARK BLOND

BEGIN HERE TODAY

MILICENT GRAVES, secretary to GEORGE DRINGOLD, finds her employer in his office dead. Millicent has a notebook in which Dringold had begun to dictate a confession.

In panic she rushes away, registers at a hotel under an assumed name.

JARVIS HAPP, a stranger, offers to help her. He sends her to a beauty parlor where she is transformed into a brunette, then takes her home and introduces her as his secretary. She meets HARRY HAP, his stepson, ROBERT CAISE, and MRS. HAP.

Millicent falls asleep and wakes to find a note under her door reading: "The woman in black ermine is here." Millicent dresses, sees the woman in black drive away and follows in Robert Caise's car but runs out of gas. She goes to the chauffeur's quarters and finds him dead.

Next morning a detective questions Millicent. She throws the keys to Robert Caise's car into the fountain pool and a moment later sees Mrs. Hap watching her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVIII

THE steps Millicent had heard in the corridor went on, past her door. Millicent clung to the window ledge.

Mrs. Hap stared up at her, the diamond-hard eyes seeming to see through the girl's very soul.

"Good morning," she said, "I presume you've heard the tragic news."

Millicent nodded. For the life of her, words would not come.

Had Mrs. Hap seen her toss that key container into the pool?

"It's so dreadful," Mrs. Hap said. "Harry was an excellent chauffeur. I was really very much attached to him, although he worked mostly for my husband. Are you dressed?"

"I'm dressing," Millicent said.

"I thought that you would be fatigued, so I told them not to call you for breakfast, but the officers are here now, making an investigation. They think some hold-up man must have been lying in wait for Harry when he entered his room. It's really most tragic. But get your clothes on, my dear, and have some breakfast. Then I want to talk with you."

Millicent nodded, slid back from the window and dropped into a chair.

There was something about Mrs. Hap and her son, Robert, that filled Millicent with apprehension.

"About six months,"

"You knew Harry Felding?"

"Of course."

"Did you know he was dead?"

"I heard it this morning, yes."

"You weren't here last night?"

"Not in the evening. It was my night off."

"Where were you?"

"With friends."

"What time did you return here?"

"Sometime late last night."

"How late?"

"Really, I couldn't say."

"In a room in the back of the house."

"Over the garage, isn't it?"

"I believe so, yes."

"You should, then, have heard a shot if it had been fired while you were in your room."

"Yes."

"Well, I didn't hear anything."

"Did you hear the garage door being opened? Did you hear the sound of a car leaving the garage?"

"No."

"I'm afraid I'll have to ask you to check up on the time you returned."

"Yes."

"Good morning," Mrs. Eaton said in her colorless voice. "I presume you will have but little appetite this morning. You've heard what's happened. The officers are all back in the room now, taking photographs and measurements. They'll remove the body presently."

Plan Record Pan American Hop

Hoping to shatter the Ross-Codas long distance non-stop record of 5527 miles, James C. Prosser, 38, and Gilbert E. Stoll, 25, veteran Cleveland, O., pilots, plan a 6400-mile good-will hop, over jungles, mountains, and a 100-mile water stretch, from Bahia Blanca, Argentina, to Cleveland. Map shows the course over which they will fly in the Bellanca plane, top photo, built for the late Russell Boardman.

Fish Is Feeble at Murder Trial

Feeble and apparently in a stupor, Albert H. Fish, confessed slayer of 10-year-old Grace Budd, went on trial for the crime in White Plains, N. Y. The 65-year-old slayer is pictured as two guards supported him leaving court. He was expected to cite his monstrousness of his crime to prove insanity.

Plum Hollow Ready for Banner Summer; Rinkmen Polish Golfing Sticks

Sand Traps Becken Slicers, Hookers; Ted's Domain

In the spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of golf! Those not quite so young have been gently bitten this spring by the proverbial bug.

A sudden burst of activity is expected to greet the first sunny, spring-like day on Plum Hollow's rolling greens, when Dixon's golfing fraternity will be inspired by the clash of a "fearsome foursome" known as Bud Rink's Coal Heavers with an equally formidable combination from the Reynolds Wire Co.

Although no special date has been set, the Coal Heavers are willing to take on all challengers. Three matches have already been tentatively arranged. Besides the two hour conflict with the Wire Mill in which Coal Heavers must reckon with "Pile Driving Paddy" McDonald, the Rink crew will provoke a match with Witzel's Plumbing Establishment, featuring Oscar Jr., the plumber, and also a match some bright day with the International Harvesters.

Talents Remain Hidden

The exact talents of this "Big Three" are not known. Dame Rumor says the general average for each individual approximates a range from 60 to 150 strokes for nine holes. The complete personnel of the Wire Mill or Harvesters four some is not decided, but for the Coal Heavers the big siege guns will be Bud Rink "general," Rush Rose "corporal," Fred Chiverton "lieutenant," and John Bovey "cannon."

Ted Talty, golf professional, is ready for a gala season with his Plum Hollow empire, which will soon be invaded by hundreds of pill chasers from boundary to boundary. Ted recently visited Chicago where he purchased a supply of armaments for the wars, and has been brushing up on a few of his trick strokes to test on anyone challenging his skill.

Inasmuch as several novices are reported flitting with the idea of golf this spring and are almost certain to become addicts of the disease once they step within Plum Hollow's confines, Talty is anticipating a lively season in a tutorial capacity. It was rumored this morning he might be counted on to reorganize the Dixon Dreadnaughts for golfing competition. Success in this questionable venture might land Ted a contract with Paramount.

The prize awarded the winners of the Coal Heavers-Wire Mill clash will be "something succulent."

WINTER GOLF CAMPAIGN TO CLOSE TODAY

Augusta, Ga., Apr. 3.—(AP)—The crack brigade of American professional golf brings the long winter campaign to a brilliant climax with a double objective in view, starting tomorrow in the opening round of the Augusta National golf club's invitation tournament.

The money-players not only expect to frustrate the second annual comeback attempt of Bobby Jones, one time world champion, but to give Old Man Par a fearful shellacking on the course designed by Jones and considered one of the finest golfing tests in the United States.

It is entirely possible, of course, that the professionals may prove to be wrong on both counts.

Gene Sarazen is the hot choice of the experts. Gene as concentrated to such an extent lately on his golf that he is back in championship form. He has carded four straight rounds of 65, 72, 67, 67 over the Augusta layout for a total of 271, 17 shots under par.

AMERICAN LOOP WON MAJORITY SPRING GAMES

Yanks, White Sox Victory Streak Helped Out

New York, April 3.—(AP)—A seven game winning streak for the New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox improved showing against the Pittsburgh Pirates have enabled the American League to take a wide edge over the National in the race for the mythical "grapefruit league" championship.

Of the 66 games so far played, the American League has won 39; the National 29. Fifty-nine games remain to be played, but the American league's ten game edge is not likely to be overcome.

The Yankees, clearing up at the expense of the Boston Braves, are carrying most of the American League burden. They have won nine of their 13 games with National League opponents. They've had help however, from every other American League club but the Washington Senators, who have yet to play their first game with a National League rival.

Brooklyn's Dodgers continue undefeated in the inter-league series, holding five consecutive decisions over the American League.

In games of all descriptions whether against American, National or minor league opposition, the Yankees and Browns have the best records, each having won 12 of 16.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

(By The Associated Press)

Jackson, Miss., April 3.—(AP)—Clyde Castleman, who hadn't even been heard of by the Giants until last year, appears to have drawn the job as starting pitcher along with the "Big Four." Castleman came to the Giants in 1934 at the suggestion of Chuck Dressen, then Nashville manager.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—Col Jacob Ruppert, the owner, appears satisfied with the 1935 edition of the Yankees at the conclusion of their training period here. He said as much before leaving for New York and added that he didn't believe the absence of Babe Ruth would affect the club.

Orlando, Fla.—Dazzy Vance, trying to make a comeback with his old club, the Dodgers, has struck what he thinks is a winning combination in a uniform. He came out garbed in Lefty O'Doul's pants and Van Mungo's shirt, the former for hitting and the latter for pitching. Incidentally the Dazzler showed enough "stuff" to convey the idea he may earn a regular job.

Charlotte, N. C.—The Athletics made solemn vows today to avenge themselves in the second game with the Syracuse Chiefs of the International League, who broke their six game winning streak by a 3-2 score. Outfielder Roger Cramer will be out some time because he sprained an ankle at Griffin, Ga.

Barton, Fla.—Determined to win the American League championship, the Cincinnati Reds were in good humor to meet the Phillies here today.

Galveston, Tex.—Rookie Wayne Osborne gets his chance on the mound for the Pirates today. He will try to go the full seven innings against the Galveston team in the "Buck" half of a double bill which also will see the Chicago White Sox battling the locals.

Galveston, Tex.—Manager Jimmy Dyer of the White Sox was a happy man once more today. Les Tietje had shown him his old time zip and Al Simmons had emerged from his famous spring hitting slump. Tietje blanked Pittsburgh yesterday with three hits and striking out seven in six innings. Simmons belted two singles in five trips to the plate.

Flagstaff, Ariz.—Far from satisfied with 12 victories and seven defeats in exhibition games, Manager Charlie Grimm led his Chicago Cubs toward home today for a two-game series against Washington at Wrigley Field Saturday and Sunday.

Lakeland, Fla.—The Detroit Tigers broke camp today and started back towards home and a battle to retain the American League championship. In a farewell performance Tuesday, the Tigers were slapped down 8-6, by the Cincinnati Reds. The Tigers and Reds play at St. Augustine, Fla., today.

Orlando, Fla.—Only his modest nature today kept Louis "Buck" Newsom from revising downward his estimate of 20 or more victories this season for Rogers Hornsby's St. Louis Browns. Brooklyn pounded Newsom for seven hits and six runs in four innings and defeated the Browns 8-1.

Ozark, Ala.—Continuing their "good will tour" through the south, the St. Louis Cardinals stopped off here today for a game with an All-Star team. Dublin, Ga., declared a holiday yesterday and 3,500 persons, some coming as far as 400 miles, saw the Red Birds, with Dizzy Dean pitching five innings, defeat the University of Georgia, 11 to 5.

One Year Ago Today — George Dunlap, National Amateur golf champion, won the North & South Amateur at Pinehurst, N. C.

Five Years Ago Today — Montreal Canadiens won the Stanley Cup playoffs, defeating Boston in a close hockey game in Montreal, 4-3.

Ten Years Ago Today — Frank Taborski won the world pocket billiard championship by defeating Joseph Concannon of Brooklyn.

Winter Haven, Fla.—After bearing down in the ninth to defeat the American League champion Detroit Tigers 8-6 yesterday, at Lakeland, the Cincinnati Reds were in good humor to meet the Phillies here today.
